

Scout Attendance Qualifications

Scouts who participate in the 2010 National Scout Jamboree are selected by more than 300 councils in the United States. Here is what it takes:

- A Scout must first be approved by his Scoutmaster or Varsity Scout coach and the local council jamboree committee.

Other requirements:

- Each Scout must be at least 12 years old or have completed the sixth grade by July 1, 2010.
- He must be a First Class Scout by July 1, 2010.
- His 18th birthday must not be before Aug. 3, 2010.
- Participation in the jamboree requires a pre-jamboree training experience.
- Each Scout must file a personal health and medical record form before that training event.
- The Scout must be active in his troop for at least six months prior to July 1, 2010.

Cost and Payment Schedule

The local council will set the fee for their jamboree contingent, depending on the specific tour that they choose to take. The cost includes the jamboree fee, travel and tour costs, meals, lodging, unit and patrol equipment, accident and sickness insurance, and the cost of pre-jamboree training. Contact your local council service center for the specific cost of the 2010 National Scout Jamboree.

How Do You Sign Up?

Register online at www.MyScouting.org. There will also be a link on www.scouting.org/jamboree which will redirect to www.MyScouting.org.

Go to the Web site and create a log-in user ID and password. You must have your BSA member ID number to create a user account. This is on your membership card, or check with your Scoutmaster. You may also call your council for your number.

There will be a window on the log-in screen informing the user of the BSA member ID number requirement. Create a user account. Now you can create an online application.

When submitting, the applicant will be asked to pay a $10 processing fee payable by credit/debit card only. The $10 processing fee is nonrefundable.

All youth and leader applicants will be instructed to print their confirmation, have it signed by their Scoutmaster, and take the signed document and a $100 deposit to their local council.

NOTE: This confirmation does not guarantee a spot in a council jamboree troop. The local council will make that determination. Each Boy Scout council may select only a certain number of Scouts and adult leaders for the 2010 National Scout Jamboree.

Staff applicants will be directed to pay a deposit when applying. Staff fees do not go through the local council. Staff must be 16 years of age by July 26, 2010. Registration is online using the same process as the youth application. Your ID number is on the unit roster.

Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia

The best, most exciting, fun-filled, safest jamboree ever!

BOY SCOUTS  OF AMERICA®

CELEBRATING THE ADVENTURE—CONTINUING THE JOURNEY

100 YEARS OF SCOUTING!

A century of the finest outdoor and leadership experience a boy could have! This tradition lives on at the pinnacle of the 100th Anniversary of Scouting—the 2010 National Jamboree. Yesterday merges with tomorrow at the greatest Scouting event of the century. It is the opportunity of a lifetime, one you will never forget. DON'T MISS OUT on this special moment in time!

Baden-Powell's Vision

In 1916, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the Scouting movement, knew what success looked like for the 10th anniversary of Scouting. It was the sight of thousands of youth gathered together to celebrate. The jamboree was born! In his words, "The secret of its growth lies in that indeterminate force which we only know as the 'Scout Spirit,' " and grow it has!

Since 1937, more than 654,000 Scouts and leaders have shared the jamboree experience and hiked the trails, paths, and roadways at 16 national Scout jamborees. Now, 100 years after Scouting reached the United States, it's your turn to celebrate!

Scouting Paradise, Jamboree Style

Nestled in the rolling green hills of Virginia, close to our nation's capital, Fort A.P. Hill lies near many historical Civil War landmarks. This 76,000-acre facility has hosted the national Scout jamboree since 1981. The Boy Scouts of America uses approximately 3,000 acres of land to support a city of more than 43,000 Scouts and leaders.

What is There to Do?

You name it! The jamboree program reflects the skills of Scouting—physical fitness, environmental conservation, our national heritage, and the true spirit of Scouting.

See yourself rappelling, discovering scuba, kayaking, rafting, and sailing. Experience trap shooting, archery, bikeathlons, buckskin games, confidence courses, conservation trail, and more! There is not enough time in the day for all the exciting activities that are there waiting for you to try.

Daily activities include an incredible merit badge midway, arts and sciences, a re-creation of Baden-Powell's original Scout camp on Brownsea Island, an American Indian village, regional entertainment stages, and many other activities. The arena shows are a highlight for all participants. The jamboree is Scouting at its very best!

Jamboree City Rises Again

At dawn on July 26, 2010, dew on the empty fields shimmers in the growing daylight. And then ... here they come! By noon, throngs of Scouts are carrying gear and tents, and gateways begin to emerge from the empty ground. By dusk, the landscape has been transformed into a bustling city of 18,000 tents, 3,600 patrol kitchens and 43,000 Scouts and leaders. This transformation occurs in mere hours, making Jamboree City the fastest growing city in Virginia, if not the world.

Amid the thousands of colorful tents that will house participants and provide program and support services, there is an infrastructure that provides a safe and secure environment at Fort A.P. Hill. Everything from bus systems, telephone and Internet, to first-aid stations and a hospital, police and fire departments, post offices, food warehouses, a daily newspaper, and retail stores (trading posts and concession stands) provides all the support and program services needed for an outstanding event.
